

Flourishing Muse
Spring Soiree
2 June 2013
3 pm Croasdaile Auditorium

Don't miss the Flourishing Muse student recital next weekend!

Please come and support the students and enjoy their talent and creativity. It is so good for them to be able to share their music in such a supportive environment!

Here are a few of the many highlights:

- Duet from Mozart's Don Giovanni with Richard Palmer and Michelle Nowlin
- The Gendarmes' Duet by Offenbach performed by two very unlikely law enforcers!
- Chelsea Daniel will play Chopin's Grande Valse Brillante before she heads to Winston Salem to study at the NC School of the Arts.
- Eight girl guitar players will play Taylor Swift songs - thank you Taylor for writing such accessible and appropriate songs for girls to sing and play!
- Piano Jazz will be featured - Maple Leaf Rag, Singing the Blues, New York New York and more
- Sophie Lowry and Dad will play Irish reels together on guitar.
- Student compositions from the latest road song on guitar to classical piano
- Actually all the performances are highlights!

The recital will be in two halves:

3-3:45 Guitar players and singers

4-4:45 piano and voice students

Please come to both and experience the diversity from pop to opera, 7 years to 70, beginners to experienced musicians.
